Paint is to a Building

what clothing is to the body. It is just as important. You should take as much care in selecting the paint to clothe your property, as you do in selecting the material to clothe your person. Paint preserves the building. Paint gives beauty to the building. In painting the labor costs more than the paint. There will be a large waste if the right paint is not used.

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT

is made for painting buildings. It is not a low-priced paint, but it is cheap because the best. It is made of the purest materials—that wear the longest. The colors are bright and handsome.

Senator Tillman will now proceed to show that a brainstorm may be salable at $200 per night.

Uncle Sam's engineers are free from bumptiousness, and consequently Panama is about to enjoy a novel experience.

The country is cordially reconciled to the announcement that the government engineers will take hold of the Panama job.

Both Honduras and Nicaragua are putting upa game fight. It will undoubtedly be the best bantam contest of the season.

It would be a queer sort of country that could grow as fast as the United States without a steady increase in public expenditures.

Home rule in the opinion of democratic legislatures in Missouri is a matter to be regulated by party advantage. The present legislature shows that it holds this view in common with its predecessors.

In a spirit of accomodation Mr Harriman expresses a willingness to let himself down to the level of the United States. Perhaps the concession offered will be greater before the toboggan slide ends.

The Thompson bill provides that a landlord must give thirty days notice before increasing his tenant's rent, tand that a tenant who holds over after receiving notice to quit must pay only the amount of his rent and not treble rents by way of penal damages, as section 3345 of the Civil Code now requires. The court is permitted, however, in its discretion, to grant judgment for treble

The Redwood City Commercial Bank, and the Savings and Trust Co., held their annual meetings on Saturday last. Both institutions voted to increase their capital, that of the Commercial Bank was raised from $25,000 to $100,000, and the Savings and Trust Co., from $25.000 to $50,000. The meetings were attended by a majority of the stockholders of each bank, and the reports of the prosperous condition of both the institutions was very gratifying to them, while the prospects of the future was very encouraging. The election of directors resulted as follows: Redwood City Commercial Bank; Hugh McArthur, S. E. Slade, M. T. Freitas, M. F. X. Kavanaugh James T. Casey, Geo. R. Sneath, Wm. Hughes, Chas. E. Dugan, and L. B. Thomas. The Savings and Trust Co.; G. P. Hartley, M. F. X. Kavanaugh, Edw. F. Fitzpatrick, M. F. Freitas, S. E. Slade, Geo. R. Sneath, Wm. Hughes, Chas. E. Dugan and Jas T. Casey.

The following officers were elected for both banks by the directors: President Geo R. Sneath; vice president, Wm. Hughes; secretary and manager, Chas. E. Dugan; cashier, L. B. Thomas.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

The first wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Yount was celebrated on the evening of February 22d. A large number of friends of the couple were present and enjoyed themselves exceedingly with games and music. An elaborate dinner closed the festivities. Among those present were the following: Mrs. T. H. Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, Mr. and Mrs. D. Newell, Mrs. Frederick Kimball, Mr. D. Kimball, Miss J. H. Kimball, Mrs. H. Newell Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Newell, Miss. C. Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. F. Yount, Mrs. T. Schmall, Mr. W. Yount, Mr. B. Yount, Mr. W. Yount, Mrs. J. H. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ring, Mrs. M. Ransom, Mrs. Hardenburg, Dr. Howard Davis, Miss L. Brooks.

Mrs Yount wore her wedding dress which was of radium satin, made empire and trimmed with real lace and chiffon.

The last day of the Legislature at Sacramento brought a happy surprise to the lovers of deer-hunting, who have been worrying since the Lynch bill was amended in such a way as to prohibit the killing deer for three years. The Assembly refused to accept this Senate change stuck out Nelson's clause, leaving the bill as it was originally submitted in respect to deer. The bag limit for a season was changed from three to two; the amendment allowing dogs to be used was killed and the season was madeto open fifteen days earlier and close correspondingly sooner. The only change made by this session, therfore was to prohibit the use of dogs and to change the time of the open season.

An error in information a few days ago resulted in the statement that the Willis game license bill had been defeated. This measure, upon reconsideration, passed by a small majority. after it had been amenedd to exempt from gun license the farmer boys of the interior, and if the Governor signs it, will be one of the best gamelaws on the books. To any resident of California a license will be issued for one dollar. For ten dollars any citizen of the United States may be granted a license, but foreigners and those who have not been naturalized must pay a yearly fee of twenty-five dollars if they hunt in California. This, of coudse is aimed at the Japs, who, under the present laws, have nearly exterminated many species of game in certain parts of the State. The law will be strictly enforced in respect to thealiens, and they will either have to pay the fee or stop shooting.

DEATH OF MATTHEW CROW

AN OLD PIONEER PASSES AWAY AT RAVENSWOOD

Amassed a fortune in the mines—Bequeaths large sums to charity

Matthew Crowe, one of the best-liked of the county pioneers, passed away at his home at Ravenswood early last Monday morning after an illness of three months. Mr. Crowe was a man of powerful physique and was generous almost to a fault and a man of strong friendships and strong hatreds. He loved his friends and to his enemies he gave no quarter. Mr. Crowe was a self-made man, having amassed a fortune by hard work, industry and constant application to duty. When a young man he left Killkinney, his native town in Ireland, and came to California during the mining excitement. After working in the diggings for some time he engaged in the hotel business in Virginia City, with a considerable degree of success. After he had accumulated a fortune of $80,000 he came to Menlo Park and purchased the Ravenswood stock farm known as the Slattery home. This was in 1871. He greatly improved the property so that it is one of the finest in the county. He stocked it with thoroughbred horses and took a pride in the farm. Mr. Crowe took a deep interest in the affairs of his native land and always contributed liberally to Ireland's cause. For thirty years he had been treasurer of the Hibernian Society at Mountain View and served two years as state treasurer of that society. On his retirement from the latter position he was presented with a handsome gold badge which he highly prized. Deceased was a prominent figure in Menlo Park, where he had the highest esteem of every one.

Some time ago he gave an option on his ranch to J. F. Parkinson, of Palo Alto, for $65,000 and the deal was to have closed on March 22d.

The funeral took place Wednesday morning. The services at the Church of the Nativity were highly impressive. A special choir from San Francisco sang the mass. Father Lyon was celebrant, Father Meyers, of St. Patrick's Seminary, deacon, Father Harrington subdeacon and Father McKinnon of Palo Alto master of ceremonies. The other priests present were Father Cullen of Mountain View, Father Smith of San Francisco and Father Casey of St. Patrick's parish, San Francisco.

A large number of friends and old acquaintances followed the remains to their last resting place in Holy Cross cemetery, where all that was mortal of a good citizen, a kind and loving husband and a considerate neighbor was consigned to the tomb.

Mr. Crowe's first wife died some five years ago. He married Miss Mary Kinney in October 5, 1904, and she is the only relative on this coast surviving him. In her sad bereavement she has the sympathy of the community. Shortly before his death he made a will, the contents of which are not yet made known. It is understood he bequeathed as much as $25,000 to charity.

Edward W. Howard, executor of the last will and testament of W. H. Howard, deceased, has brought suit in the superior court against E. W. The executor of the estate sold some portion of the land and allowed defendant a rebate on the rent. McLellan claims he did not receive sufficient rebate. The whole matter will be threshed out in court.

It commands a fine view of the bay and Santa Clara valley, and to the west is Lake Lagunita. On the north the slope recedes to the present occupied part of the campus.

THE DECLAMATION CONTEST

It has been several years since this school has had any part in a declamation contest. Mr. George C Ross has inspired the school to do something in this line, by offering a gold and a silver medal to the best and second best declaimers of the high school. The contest will take place on the evening of March 22. The following program will be given.

Speech of Patrick Henry, Mayo Andreen.

The Leper, (N. P. Willis) Minnie Baker.

Vera Gerwin.

Yes, I'm Guilty, Hiram Jens.

Battle of Manila Bay, (Ross) Mazie Rend. x

When Deacon Israel Prays (Malcom) John Read.

One of the Little Ones, Margaret Winter.

Bunker Hill, Lisle Winter.

An Appeal for Starving Ireland, (S. S. Prentiss) Sidney Williams.

There are two kinds of contests which may be held in a high school good and bad. Sometimes a manufacturing firm, as a scheme for making money, offers a contest to a school Usually in these contests, the girl, receiving the greatest number of votes for beauty or popularity, is given a prize. Such contests lower the reputation of the school and produce hard feelings.

The declamation contest belongs decidedly to the class of good contests It raises the reputation of the school, brings the townspeople in closer touch with the school, and gives a form of entertainment beneficial both to the contestants and to those who attend. There are no hard feelings in connection with the contest to be held here. All of the contestants are about evenly matched. None of them have had special training in elocution. Then, too, they are going into it, not chiefly for the medal, but for the benefit which they will obtain. They realize that this training which they receive now, will help them all through life to be more confident and self reliant.

This contest will be the first public entertainment given this year by the school. We trust that the citizens will show their interest in our efforts by attending this contest.

Mountain View Fire Damages $10,000

Dudfield Lumber Company's Planning Mill and Machinery is Destroyed

Mountain View, March 14—A fire which broke out at 8:30 o'clock tonight in theplainingmill of the Dudfield Lumber Company's local plant completely destroyed the building used by the planing department, with its contained machinery, and inflicted a loss of $10,000, partly covered by insurance.

The blaze originated in the corner of the structure used for the gasoline engine which furnishes power for the plant, and is thought to have been started by sparks from the fire-pan. Gasoline which was stored around the engine, made fighting the fire a hard matter for the local department.

Adjacent buildings are used as storage places for explosive and inflammable materials, and the townspeople watched and cheered the firemen as they fought a valiant and successful battle to keep the flames from these and the residence buildings adjoining For a time the whole town seemed imperiled.

SUPERVISORS IN SESSION

BUSNESS TRANSACTED AT LAST MEETING

The Board of Supervisors held a meeting Monday to discuss the plans and specifications for the new Court House. All the member swere present except Supervisor MacBain who was detained at home on account of illness. Originally there were six designs presented. At the last meeting architects McDonald and Dean withdrew their plans, Martens and Coffey failed to supply fuller details as required by the board. Preston Sherborn had a different foundation to the one called for in the advertsed notice to architects. N. W. Mohr had plans for a brick building instead of a stonecone. The board therefore would not consider these plans. The only ones considered were those of Will D. Shea and Glenn Allen. These were read, it taking County Clerk Nash nearly all the afternoon to complete the task. The board adjourned to meet next Monday when one of the plans will be accepted. The following communication was received from Will D. Shea and same was ordered filed.

San Francisco, Feb. 28, 1907.

The Honorable
The Board of Supervisors of San Mateo Co, Cal.

Gentlemen:—

I am in receipt this day or a letter from Mr. Jos. H. Nash, County Clerk of your County wherein my attention is called to the action of your Honorable Board in requiring from competing architects for your proposed Court House Building, complete specifications and drawings.

I am pleased to state that in submitting designs for said building, I followed closely your instructions as embodied in your advertisement for designs, and submitted complete and comprehensive plans and specifications including elaborate and carefully estimated and figured steel drawings and specifications of same and all ready for submission to intending bidders. Your call for plans in said advertisement, demanded the presentation of complete working drawings in order that your Honorable Board could take intelligent action thereon, and repose to said call, I entailed great expense in the carefully prepared drawings I submitted.

In answer therefore to the communication of your County Clerk, I will say that my designs are complete and embody everything that will permit bidders to submit a true and accurate estimate for the construction of your propose building and therefore, no further specification I deem necessary to make my plans complete in every respect. I feel that your Honorable Board in considering the designs submitted will be actuated by a desire to obtain the best plan for the County, in accordance with instructions issued in the Call for designs, and therefore, it occurs to me that in justice to one who has complied in every way with said instructions, it does not seem fair to permit a revision of plans and specifications by those who failed to take advantage of your plainly worded advertisement. Such action is not considered professional by the American intitute of Architects and bring into disrepute all public competitions I earnestly trust, therefore that your Honorable Board will base your selection of a design upon merit from those submitted January 21st, and without permitting a revision of specificatons, especally after all designs were made public.

Thanking your Honorable Board for the consideration shown me, I remain,

Respectfully,

W. D. SHEA.

AN UNJUST ACCUSATION

The management of the Southern Pacific Company, claiming that the rash statements made in relation to car shortage have almost uniformly been unjust to the Harriman lines, has prepared a statement from figures in the office of General Manager Calvin, showing what has been done to care for the Pacific Coast business through increasde equipment.

The statement relates that during the past five years, the Harriman lines have anticipated the develovment of th eterritories which they serve, and have, as a matter of fact, ordered equipmnet furthre than the engine and car factories have been able to turn it out.

From January 1st. 1902, to January 1st, 1907, the Harriman lines exqended for new equipment over $60,000,000, or forty thousand dollars for every work day in that period. They purchased 1,194 new locomotives and 40.196 new freight cars. They now have orders in for over 14,000 other cars, or 20 per cent of their present equipment. In other words, tthe rolling stock of the Company is to be increased one-fifth during the calender year if the cars can be secured.

The result is seen in the records of the average movement of cars. Last year the Southern Pacific's cars moved less than 30 miles per day. This was largely because of the time the cars stood idle at stations waiting to be loaded or unloaded. The cars actually in train moved an average over 200 miles per day. If the time of loading and unloading could be cut down the car supply would be increased accordingly. If it were (through the cooperation of shippers and consignees) cut one-half the car supply would be more than doubled—or more than enough to supply any possible demand for a long time to come. Fear of a car famine creates often a false demand. Some shippers fearing they will not get the cars they order will request many more than they need and take the chance of having to pay demurrage. This sometimes gives them cars in excess of their needs, and such orders together with constant repetitions of an order for one car, serve to confuse the car service men.

Again, more cars are in the shop tthan should be, With the increasing business more cars gett out of order and the railways have not been able to hire competent car repairers in sufficient number to care for them. Theskilled workmen are not to be had. The Harriman lines have hundreds of "cripples" now on sidings that it would be glad to have in service.

The railway officers say flatly that a reciprocal demurrage bill would make matters much worse. The dollar a day pnealty exacted from a shipper who fails to load or unload within the prescribed 48 hours, is not to secure revenue, but to hasten movementse of cars. To charge the railroads for not supplying cars when ordered would be at times penalizing them because they could not perform impossibilities. Further, the interstate traffic of California, which is the most value to the state and brings to it the larger part of its revenue, would suffer severly through such a law. A state reciprocal demurrage law would have no jurisdiction over cars required for interstate movements; in self defense the railways would have to furnish the cars for movement within the state and the other business would suffer.

Will Against Will.

A certain prosy professor of physics is so great a misanthrope that he deliberately announces his lectures for the days when he has reason to think that his students will least want to attend. He commanded their presence on an election day once and drove them nearly wild by delivering a tedious essay on will power.

"If he wills it, a man may accomplish anything," he droned. "Let him make up his mind not to die, and he will live in spite of disease; let him decide that life is not worth living, and he will drop peacefully out of it. I challenge any student to cite an instance in which the power of the will has not triumphed over everything."

Up shot the reprobate of the class, a youth beloved by all his companions for his daring humor.

"Sir, I accept your challenge. You are wrong," he said.

"Pray mention an example," retorted the professor dryly.

"With pleasure, sir. An hour ago I willed that this lecture should be brought to a speedy conclusion. I've willed the same thing sixty times since, but up to now it hasn't come off."

"Nor will it," said the professor, "for I have not only willed that this lecture should last another hour, but am perfectly willing that it should do so." And it did.

A Miss and a Find.

It was the habit of the Rev. James Spurgeon, grandfather of the great preacher of that name, to pray each evening under a certain oak tree in a secluded wood in Honeywood park. One night he dreamed, the story goes, that Satan appeared and threatened to tear him in pieces if he followed his accustomed route to the tree. There was another path by which he might go in safety. Remembering his dream Spurgeon felt sorely tempted the next night to take the route in which Satan was not. But this would be to capitulate. Trembling in every limb, he made his way by the path in which the danger lay. He reached his goal in safety and in prayer and song returned thanks for delivery from peril. When his prayer had ended he rose to return. In his path lay a piece of solid gold "as large as a curtain ring." All inquiry failing to discover an owner, he retained it and when he married had his wife's wedding ring made from his curious find.

A Desperate Wager.

Driven to desperation by their heavy losses, gamblers have often sought by some coup either to repair their shattered fortunes or to bring down utter ruin upon themselves. One of the most curious instances of this kind comes from England. In the eighteenth century a notorious gambler had been losing steadily in a game for high stakes with Lord Lorne. Exasperated by his continued ill fortune, he suddenly sprang up from the card table, seized a large and costly punch bowl and balancing it above his head, called out to his opponent:

"For once I'll have a bet where I have an equal chance of winning! Odd or even, for 15,000 guineas!"

"Odd!" replied the peer placidly, and the gambler hurled the magnificent bowl against the wall.

When they counted the pieces Lord Lorne had won.—Tuesday Magazine.

Warmed by Their Perfume.

According to the results of experiments by Dr. Jean Chalon, aromatic plants charged with essential oils which exhale a perfume that spreads like an atmosphere about them when touched by the rays of the sun are to a slight degree warmed by the presence of this agreeable atmosphere. It acts in retaining the solar heat like the glass covers of a hothouse, although of course far less effectively. Professor Spring has shown that the relatively high temperatures of large cities is probably due, at least in part, to the carbonic anhydride in the air above them acting as a retaining screen for heat rays.

Spots on Leather.

Oxalic acid in weak solutions is the best thing to use when removing spots from leather. Two or three crystals of oxalic dissolved in warm water then applied with a bit of cloth to the spots, will do the work. Watch closely, and when the spots begin to disappear apply clear water to overcome the acid, which is a powerful bleach. Dry the leather with a clean cloth. For bright leather make the solution weaker.—Philadelphia North American.
